

Creative Catalyst Workshop Series

Engaging Collective Imagination | Ways to Envision the World We Want

Khari McClelland

August 18, 2020

In a time when there is so much change and uncertainty, many of us are looking at charting new paths into the future. Join Vancouver-based facilitator Khari McClelland to learn creative practices for developing visions for the future. Together we will envision the individual and collective futures we want to see and consider how we can use this information as a guide to build the world we want to live in. You will come away with practical tools you can use for your own visioning and for work you may do with groups of youth or adults.

RESOURCES

- The workshop outline - SLIDES
- Learn more about Khari's work and connect with him - www.KWMfacilitation.com and www.KhariWendellMcClelland.com
- Khari led us in the motions and in singing "Gonna Let Life Move Me" by Scott Kalechstein Grace. Click here for the lyrics and to sing along with Gretchen Sleicher and PT Songlines Choir.
- Song list from today's workshop:
  - Águas de Março - by Antônio Carlos Jobim and Regina Ellis
  - Gonna Let Life Move Me - by Scott Kalechstein Grace
  - Aquarium - by Nosaj Thing
  - My Friend the Forest - by Nils Frahm
  - Nobody - by Hiatus
  - Khari's shared a preview of his latest song and video - soon to be released!

Optional homework to follow up what we started in this workshop: Think of 3 steps that might bring you closer to your vision. Who are the people in your community that could help you bring them to fruition?