Creative Catalyst Workshop Series

Let's Make a Movie

Gani Naylor

September 14, 2021

As both a filmmaker and a facilitator, Gani Naylor will be sharing processes, tips and tricks for using video and photo to engage participants, invite creativity, and tell stories about the things we care about. Through playful and experimental activities, we will explore the possibilities for using film and photo for our personal creative expression and in our work with groups.

If possible, please bring a camera or mobile phone separate to the device you are using to attend the workshop with. If you do not have a separate camera, you can still take part in the workshop activities.

NOTES and RESOURCES

At the Let's Make a Movie! workshop with Gani Naylor, we experienced together how powerful images can be in telling a story. We have a lot of valuable resources to share so be sure to scroll down!

Things we learned...

"Amazing how powerful 3 images can be / feel" Adam

"I learned that communication can transcend boundaries and how simple images when put together can tell powerful stories" Chevelle

"Both activities so far have taught me that simple image tools can be so helpful for powerful storytelling" Sumona

Things we took away...

"Creativity is limitless" Charlene

"A wonderful way to use creativity to build bonds" Monica

"Let room for improvisation in the process" Veronique

Facilitation Tips/Insights from the Workshop

1. Demo what you expect
2. Provide structure but allow freedom
3. Turn up the heat slowly - layer it up
