Look Out for Hope

Stef Turner

September 1, 2020

Spread hope in your community!

- Expand your creativity.
- Explore your inner landscape.
- Connect with others through visual arts and reflection.

Join London-based community artist Stef Turner in bringing some hope and colour into your home and onto your street, making your mark on the collective consciousness. In this workshop you'll join people all around the world in spreading the word, the feeling, and the idea of hope through individual window paintings. Stef will also introduce an approach to facilitated dialogue inspired by Joanna Macy and Chris Johnstone's "Active Hope" cycle.
